The Algonquin is a busy hotel with a small lobby - this isn't a criticism, just an observation. We were pleased with the hotel, staff, and services...

Overview

Since the 1920s, literary luminaries have frequented the historic Algonquin Hotel Times Square, Autograph Collection. Perhaps best known as the home of the Algonquin Round Table, the hotel regularly hosted this group of talented young writers—which included New Yorker founder Harold Ross and the singular Dorothy Parker. Today, this 4-star property's location between Fifth Avenue and the neon heart of Times Square places you steps from both upscale shopping and theater. (If you're lucky, you might catch a play that one of Parker's pals penned.)

Less than a 10-minute stroll from the Algonquin, you can look up Parker's oeuvre at the New York Public Library, then grab a sandwich in adjacent Bryant Park. If you're in the mood for more dynamic entertainment, check out the schedule at Radio City Music Hall, an easy 6 blocks from the hotel.

You don't have to leave The Algonquin for a show, though: Reserve a table for dinner and cabaret, offered seasonally, at the Oak Room Supper Club. The venue has hosted greats like Harry Connick, Jr. and Diana Krall. For a quieter night, dine at the Round Table Room, where Natalie Ascencio's painting A Vicious Circle immortalizes the infamous literary lunch crowd. Room service is also available from 7:30 AM-10:30 PM daily. Enjoy a cocktail in Blue Bar or in the elegant lobby lounge, where the Algonquin's resident cat may pay you a visit while you linger. Before bed, you can fit in a workout in the fitness center, or catch up on work in the business center; both are open 24 hours.

Renovated in 2009, guestrooms offer Edwardian-style furnishings and beds with comfy pillowtop mattresses. Flat-screen TVs come with DVD players, premium cable channels, and pay movies. Check email with complimentary wireless Internet access, available throughout the hotel, or curl up in a plush bathrobe with a complimentary copy of The New Yorker. In keeping with the hotel's literary history, you can also reserve a Kindle preloaded with your favorite book.

Dining

Round Table Room - This restaurant, named for the literary greats who were regular sharp-tongued crew with the painting A Vicious Circle by artist Natalie Ascencios. Located in this hotspot offers breakfast, lunch, and dinner, as well as a small pre-theater menu at 5:30 p.m. Brunch is served on Sundays.

Oak Room Supper Club - Candle-style lighting and reflective, dark-wood walls give an intimate atmosphere. Many big-name artists, including Harry Connick, Jr. and Diana Krall, have performed here. Reservations are required, so call in advance. Seating for dinner starts at 6:30 p.m. Restaurant open (seasonally) Tuesday-Saturday. A Jazz brunch is offered (seasonally) on Sundays.

Blue Bar - Paneled in dark wood, this cozy bar's ambiance echoes the intimate atmosphere of the Round Table Room. Enjoy a literary cocktail, like The Hemingway or Parker, or a dry martini. Need a nosh? Bar food is available.

Lobby lounge - Sip your cocktail and dally with company in the comfort of the Algonquin's lobby lounge. Seating is available.

Room service - Available limited hours.
